THE GREAT LAND AUCTION.

There are many particulars anent the Loreto land auction which will much interest a very wide circle of our readers. The auction began with bids in the new national money, but as many of the Basque and Irish farmers present could not understand the exact value of the new money, Mr. Bullrich, the auctioneer, offered the bidders pencils, which led to much delay and formed a check to others than brokers buying.

Mr. M. Duggan bought the first two lots put up at 3,700 new gold dollars per half league. These lots are the nearest to the Iriondo Colony, and therefore, it is thought, had an exeptional value. Mr. Duggan is, of course, "au fait" in any currency, and it was the same to him to bid for the land in new national dollars as in Brazilian milreas; he could write and cipher in his head the same as a Basque farmer could work the sum out on a slate. Still, as soon as the second large lots were knocked down to Mr. William White for 3,600 nat. per half league, there was a murmur of discontent, and the auctioneer very properly, acceding to the general wish, proceeded with the sale in paper dollars, which immensely facilitated business, and everything then went on quickly and smoothly.

The sale of lot 65, on which the old fort of Loreto stands, with bricks enough to build a good estancia azotea house, attracted animated bidding, and was knocked down to a Basque for $90,000m/c per ½ league, although a bid of $500 m/c more was made as the hammer fell, which gave rise to a slight discussion between the bidder and the auctioneer. Owing, however, to Mr. Geoghegan, of Pergamino, interfering and siding with the Basque, the higher bid was declined.

Lots No. 17 and 18 attracted much notice, as it is here that young Mr. Chapeaurouge is squatted with a large and fat rodeo of cattle. This land sold for $194,000 % per square league, and is considered by those who know the land a great bargain.

Lot No. 20 is a beautiful piece of land on the Laguna de la Barranca, and was sold to a sheepfarmer, who bought the place to settle on for $80,000 % the half league. Mr. Boggins is the buyer.

Lots 21 and 22 are on the laguna called La Amarga, and were bought in Mr. Duggan's name for two sheepfarmers in the north, who also drive out their flocks. All the lands hereabouts form a very rich canada of immense extent.

Lots 76 and 31 adjoin the splendid laguna Tordillo, where for 100 years the Indians have invernared their mares and stock.

Lots 72 and 79, 71 and 80, 81, 82, 69, were all bought by a Basque who drives his stock on to the land; and he was much put about because the adjoining lots on the water were bought up.

Lots counting from 24 and 25, across the whole end of the land, to 177 and 176, were bought up by a Syndicate of Navarro sheepfarmers. On a part of this splendid rincon is the puesto of Benavides with sheep and cattle.

Mr. Murphy, who has such a large wire-fenced estancia on the Venado Tuerto, bought a very fine piece of four square leagues for $152,000 m/c the square league.

Don Rufino Varela, ex-Minister of Hacienda Provincia, bought another splendid lot of four leagues at 130,000 m/c the square league.

Mr. Bean bought a capital square league for his wife for $140,000.

Much enthusiasm reigned at one period of the auction, and many parties bought square leagues for their children.

Messrs. Bell, Thomson and Grobly bought some fine lands near the Isla Verda.

Mr. Krabbe bought the cheapest and some of the largest blocks.

Mr Hurst, a Swiss gentleman, bought a square league alongside Mr. Methven's large and excellent purchase.

Mr. Wesley, of Gualeguaychu, bought some fine lots alongside Mr. Moran's, a well-known sheepfarmer.

"En fin," we cannot go through the entire list, but must confess that it was for many reasons, the greatest and most successful land auction we ever attended. It realized a total of over fifteen millions currency.

On some parts of the land sold there are large "poblaciones" and rodeos of horned cattle. On lot 69 there is a large "jaguel," but the water in the laguna of Tordillo is salt.

The purchasers, according to the terms of the sale, have four years to pay; and we may safely predict that before the last bills fall due these camps will be cheap at from 300 to 400,000 m/c per league.

It is pleasant to think that an English Land Company is connected with this great sale, whose success will greatly serve the country by showing to London capitalists what money well invested in good lands can in a very short time give the shareholders.

Mr. Casey, however, merits our chief praise, since it was he who organised the whole business. Everything he touches comes out well; and well he merits his share in the magnificent profits on the transaction, which we are told reach the net figure of £60,000 stg.

The following is the result of the sale:—

ANOTHER NEW BOOK.

Messrs. E. Paz and Mendonca, editors of the Pampa of this city, have published an interesting description in French of the Continental Exhibition held here last year. The chief importance of the book is centred in the preliminary remarks on the Argentine Republic. The description of the exhibition is evidently quite a secondary consideration alongside that of the present status and prospects of the country. Although the work can boast of no literary merit, it conveys a very flattering idea of this country, and Frenchmen will read many interesting descriptions of a country which, it must be confessed, is comparatively unknown. Frenchmen, as a rule, have very hazy geographical notions, and even the educated class knows little of the wide world outside the limits of Europe, although one of the greatest geographists of the day is Elysée Reclus, a Frenchman, who is at present engaged in writing a monumental geography of the world.

Messrs. Paz and Mendonca have succeeded in giving a succinct political and economical description of the Argentine Republic; the book contains many items which are unnoticed here. Thus the calculations of the authors as to the number of inhabitants in the country range about 3,000,000 souls; ten years ago there were not 2,000,000 inhabitants in the country; the ratio of increase must be indeed very remarkable if we are authorized to endorse the calculations of the authors. Mr Latzina, it will be remembered made similar estimates, and basing his calculations on the census of 1869, and on the deficient list of the National Guard, arrived at the conclusion that there were over 2,800,000 souls in the country. It does not matter much whether these figures be accurate or not, since we all hold the intimate conviction that if there are not 3,000,000 souls in the country, we will soon surpass that figure if the present current of emigration flows it as at present.

Particular sress is laid on the number of theatres and many amusements in Buenos Airs. Messrs. Paz and Mendonca will convince their Parisian readers that when emigrating to this country they need not fear the loss of the Boulevard or Folires Dramatiques. Frenchmen are fond of amusement, and the description of Buenos Aires has been dished to suit their taste. There is no denying the fact that there are many theatres in Buenos Aires; during the season Colon boasts of opera companies worthy of European capitals, and the long list of celebrities who have sung in the Calle Reconquista, carefully enumerated in the book, will do much to inculcate an idea that B. Aires is not such a dull place, although situated in the antipodes. Buenos Aires is very French and very Italian, it is nearly more European than American, and there are many thoroughfares where French is as familiar as on the Parisian Boulevards. The French colony of this city is very numerous and very important, and there is no better barometer than the growing importance of the French wine trade. In 1855 this country imported about 500 barrels of wine from France; to-day the monthly arrivals are from 10 to 15,000 barrels per month. French emigration has given rise to this great development of the wine trade. Every Frenchman that arrives on these shores means the import of a pipe of wine from his country. Emigration to these shores is most prosperous to the home countries. Italians and Frenchmen do not compete with the industries of their mother countries, and foment the consumption of home articles. As Mr Daireaux very eloquently states in his book on this country, the few thousands of Frenchmen, emigrated to the Plate, have given more development to the trade of their country than 500,000 of their countrymen at home.

Messrs Paz and Mendonca have not neglected to append several interesting tables of figures, which show the great progress of the country. With regard to the description of the Continental Exhibition, there is nothing to say; descriptions of this nature are necessarily dry and afford very little interest to the reader. The book is a worthy effort to enlighten Frenchmen and foster a propaganda in favour of this country; it will remove many false notions and may perhaps attract emigration. The National Government should distribute several thousand copies of this work throughout France. The intrinsic merits of the book cannot be denied, and we compliment the talented authors on their production.

THE NATIONAL BANK.

REPORT OF THE AUDITING COMMITTEE FOR 1882.

The following Report of the Auditing Committee is the most eloquent refutation of the late attacks made on the National Bank. As had been anticipated, the Committee endorses every line in the Report of the Board for 1882:—

Reviewing the balance-sheet of the Bank it was asserted that the new shareholders shared the sum of $90,603-92, representing in the assets the value of presses and printing materials, and 110,214-82, representing the furniture and fixings of the Bank, its 17 branches and 14 agencies. The law of 1882, which increased the capital of the Bank to $20,000,000, did not embody the liquidation of credits; its sole object was to increase the capital of an existing joint-stock company, it ordered not the creation of a new company, but the increase of the capital of an old one.

The new members join the Bank with the same rights and obligations incumbent upon the old shareholders.

The new shareholders have not even paid a premium on their shares, the subscription having been effected at par on their joining a company with credit and privileges the importance of which are growing with the rapid development of this important enterprise.

The printing-presses and materials represented, in 1876, the sum of $96,573-68 when the circulation only amounted to $911,933-40 and was nominal in the Provinces, whereas on the 31st December 1882, the cost of the material represented the sum of $90,603-92, the circulation at that date amounting to $3,832,204-70, with the probabilities of an increase to more than double that sum. The furniture and fixings in 1876 figured at $120,562 when the Bank had neither the number of branches nor any of the agencies which it has to-day; in the balance-sheet of 1882, they only figure for $118,214-28. We call attention to these important differences and to the fact that since 1876 the presses and printing materials and the furniture etc., of the establishment have been considerably increased.

The Board of the Bank has made a yearly deduction of 20 o/o on its fixings, of 10 per cent on its printing materials and of 5 per cent on its furniture.

The printing materials the cost of which is represented to-day as $90,603.92 correspond to 10,000,000 notes which the Bank has in circulation with a face value of $16,578,224.23 c.

Considering that, according to the balance sheet of Jan. 31st ult., the circulation exceeded $4,000,000, the profits to be derived from same will far more than cover the material cost of $110,214.28 of furniture and fixings as represented by more than 80 iron safes and sitting rooms, books, pass-books and furniture of the Bank branches and its agencies.

According to the 10th clause of the XLIX articles of the Statutes, the Board is authorized to declare an interim dividend. For the first six months of the year a general balance sheet was prepared, 3½ per cent of the profits being distributed, leaving a reserve of $128,000, which was included with the dividend in the rest of the year's profits, amounting to f620,730.26 cts.

The demand for capital in the provinces, owing to the great development of several industries in Tucuman, Salta, Santiago, and Corrientes, is very large, and this accounts for the large increase of operations, which needed a collateral increase of capital of the Bank. The protested bills account has been, through the judicious management of the Board, reduced to $f.339,818.62. A reserve fund of $f.153,601 has been put aside, which is in excess of the sum fixed by law of October 12th 1832. The value of the Bank building and its improvements were reduced in 1880 to $f.300,000. In connection with this fact the Committee venture to suggest the erection of a new and larger edifice, part of which might be set apart for the Public Credit Offices. The building would take two years to erect, and to meet its cost, 50 cents per share might be deducted each year, from 1884 to 1885.

We have revised all the books of the Bank, its offices and departments, and we have received the most favourable impression, finding everything correct and in perfect order.

We consider our task finished, and feel convinced that we fulfil a duty in stating that the President, the Directors and Managers of the Bank have acted with remarkable judgment, raising the fortunes of an institution the future of which is immense, because its present condition is prosperous and its field of operations most extensive.

We propose to the Meeting:—

1st.—The approval of the accounts and balance sheet of 1882.

2nd.—The distribution of a dividend of $5 per share as proposed in the report of the Board.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

IRELAND PACIFIED

February 9, 1883.

Mr. Healy, M.P., Mr. Davitt and Mr. Quinn, after quietly finishing their breakfasts and chaffing the detectives, put their rugs and portmanteaus on a car and drove yesterday morning to Kilmainham. They were courteously received by the Governor and shown to their cells.

The English Liberal papers this morning join in the chorus, "God bless the Prince of Wales, Lord Spencer and Mr. Trevelyan." They seem satisfied that a happy mixture of firmness and moderation has at last brought Ireland to a sense of her past iniquity, and, at all events, has very much improved the collection of rents.

The Dublin inquiry drags its slow length along, in adjournments from one week to the other, evidently with the intention of giving time to the police to gather evidence and to encourage informers. Yesterday a young man, named Thomas Fitzpatrick, was arrested in London as implicated in the assassination plots. The Fenians and the Land Leaguers are beginning to accuse each other as responsible for the murders. A Fenian, "one who knows"—there are lots of these fellows now—says it is well known already to the police, "from whom the "blood money" came. That is to say, from the Land Leaguers. This is a question of vital interest to be solved in the forthcoming investigations. An Irishman, on the press in Dublin, and who knows some of the accused personally, tells me that "twelve of them will be hanged." The principal culprit seems to be Carey, a big, six-footed bully, with shaven chops and a black peaked beard, the type of the crew; not long ago he was hauled up for striking down cruelly a poor little drummer-boy, because he wore Her Majesty's uniform. That same bully will, perhaps, be on his trial for a certain big murder in the Phœnix Park. According to the Dublin gossip which I am quoting, it seems quite established that there was no intention of killing Lord Frederick Cavendish. 'Burke was their man; but, as he was defended by Cavendish, they had to kill him. That, I fancy, is mere conjecture. The Fenians say that the Assassination League was concocted by the suspects when in gaol. The French papers, whose opinions are valuable as impartial, absolve the Land Leaguers from any active participation in the murders, but blame them for letting loose or exciting the fifty or sixty assassins by the League's agitation. At present that opinion may be taken for just what it is worth. The intensely interesting point, as to the degree of affiliation between Fenian assassins and Land Leaguers, must be left until the evidence is complete.

A curious example of the tame, virtuous middle-class English notions o the Irish question has just been given by the present Lord Mayor of London. He was asked by an Irish deputation to raise at the Mansion House a subscription to relieve the existing distress in Donegal and other parts of Ireland. The worthy Lord Mayor, in an excellent speech, told the deputation he would never close the doors of the Mansion House for appeal for help to distress, but he said plainly he could not hope for success, nor could he himself join earnestly in the work whilst those connected with the deputation allowed such utterances as had been delivered by Mr. O'Donnell in the Memorial Hall—that gentleman had accused the London Corporation itself, in their capacity as Ulster proprietors, of stealing millions from confiscated estates and returning nothing to the Irish people. The Lord Mayor said he could speak with some knowledge on that point, and he had no hesitation in saying that the statement was utterly and shamefully untrue. The accounts, he said, of the Royal Irish Society are published, and it can be seen that, less the cost of administration, every penny of the fund is spent on public works in Ireland, according to the conditions of the trust. The Lord Mayor complained of Mr. O'Donnell's expressed hope that the present Lord Mayor would not follow the example of his predecessor in aiding the "hellish work" of the "Property Defence Association." He complained, with much simplicity, of the "bad taste" shown by Mr. O'Donnell, not only in thus characterising a respectable body of men who took up a work which commended itself to the approval of public opinion, but in alluding to Lord Hartington as allied by family descent to that "usurer, thief and assassin," the Earl of Cork. The "bad taste" seemed specially objectionable to the worthy Lord Mayor, when we consider the deep affliction in which the Cavendish family had been plunged; therefore, and on these grounds, &c. &c. The deputation often interrupted the Lord Mayor and said they were not responsible for Mr. O'Donnell's opinions. Finally, they passed a vote of thanks to the good Lord Mayor and went away sorrowing.

Now, all this is excellent, but ridiculously illustrative of the common English magisterial mind taking au serieux the "bad taste" of Mr. O'Donnell or any other Irishman when he is on his legs on certain subjects. The Lord Mayor also complained of Mr. Callan's remark—one of the deputation—"that nothing whatever had been done by the Irish Executive to stave off famine." That also to the Lord Mayor seemed to be inconsistent with fact.

Well, on that point let us turn to another authority. Dr. Woodhouse, a "Castle Inspector," has been staying at intervals, for the last four weeks at Glencolumbkille, in Donegal. The day before yesterday 200 starving people surrounded the hotel in which he was staying. The doctor-inspector got alarmed, and ran like a baby to the parish priest, Father Gallagher, who came and took care of him; and listen to what Father Gallagher said. Father Gallagher knows more about it than the Lord Mayor, who, with all his English goodness, puts a sting in the end of his speech, prating of increased saving-bank deposits in Ireland, and intimating that there must be plenty of people there who can relieve their own poor.

Father Gallagher explained to Dr. Woodehouse that the people had come to him because they had found out that he was an inspector.

The Government at every cry of complaint, often from English gentlemen, like Mr. Sedley Taylor of Cambridge and others, kept sending inspector after inspector, but nothing was done, and the hearts of the people were sick with disappointment.

You will see the real speech of Father Gallagher in the Daily News. In other papers is a garbled and lying report, such as too often discredits our "Irish intelligence" in Conservative papers.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our Own Correspondent.)

Feb. 16th

Alcibiades cut off the tail of his dog to attract attention; a superior order of eccentricity would now be necessary to catch the public eye. Neither the tress of a heathen Chinee, nor the turban of a grand Turk produces as much attention on the Boulevards as a Kitty Bell hat or a dressing-gown top coat. Even Sarah Bernhardt has used up her right to be fantastic since she sold her jewels and the family plate by public auction; they realized exactly the one-half of what a private offer guaranteed. But the step enabled her to be talked about—the one thing needful.

There are still in Paris half a dozen people who seem incapable of living without making a noise; they are strangers to that terrible gift—tranquillity; they like to be banged on the head always with a bag of nuts. They cannot build a house, have a little stranger arrive in the family, forget their scented poodle in a cab, but the city must ring with the event. 'Coram populo.' This mania to be in the show case is not originality; it is puffism at shent per shent. Artistes commence to live as rationally as other people; they pay their rent before noon on quarter day, and never receive the green-colored notice-paper that taxes are in arrear. The grand Sarah may have lost all her savings by an investment which promised large interest with the inevitable bad security. Others have similarly suffered, but she could reply like Alexander, "I guard for my share, Hope"—Quand même."

Since the death of Frederic Lemaitre and Dumas père, neither the theatre nor literature can boast of eccentrics. Formerly it was considered the mode to have a mountain of debts, and there was a coquetry in having a legion of creditors at your heels. That phenomenon is ended. When genius now runs into debt the cause is due to 'neurosis.' However, the latter nervous affection often exists without the genius. To say genius is afflicted with neurosis, that is an organic injury to the part of the brain where intelligence is presumed to be localised, is equivalent to the assertion, that to run well, the leg must be broken; to see clearly, opthalmia must exist, or to speak, the nerve of the tongue must be paralysed.

A leading wholesale druggist has come to grief; he had the contract to supply the hospitals with sulphate of quinine, a medicine costing some 2,000 frcs. per lb.; he obtained the simple, unadulterated, from an Italian fabricant in hermetically sealed tins; these he opened through "error," refilled with a kindred drug value 20 frcs. per lb. and resealed—this side up with care and to be kept dry. It may fairly be asked, if the unusual mortality among the poor down with fevers in Paris last autumn was not imputable to receiving a stone instead of the bread. The accused was a model juror it seems, and as rigid as a Spartan for infractions of the law. "Oftener in the twelve, there may be some guiltier than him they try."

The handsome wife of a rich manufacturer eloped a few weeks after her marriage; she fled to Nice, to be nearer Italy. Aware her lord was on her tracks, she hired a post chaise and pair. The driver returned with his horses and the forepart of the carriage, declaring the hinderpart of the vehicle with its lady occupant fell over the rocks—spots of blood were pointed out, near Villefranche into the Mediterranean. The husband remains incredulous, and searches for the guilty couple, armed like Robinson Crusoe.

M. Cherbuliez, of the French Academy, has delivered an excellent address on behalf of the Female Casual Ward. Women and children are admitted for one night without any questions being asked; if they can establish their identity by papers, they can claim three nights' refuge. All are compelled to take a bath before going to bed, and it is thus the black and blue marks, evidence of ill-treatment, are discovered on children. The latter are not the less over gay in the midnight home. It appears that about "20 governesses and pianists, all from England," demand on an average admission. Alsace contributes chiefly servants out of work, and France "feels for that province, the pain that an amputated experiences in the member which has undergone an operation."

M. Richer has published his 'Code' of Woman's Rights. It is a terrible list of deprivations and humiliations. He objects to woman changing her name when married—husband and wife ought to mutually exchange as in the days of Rome; thus were Mr Brown and Miss Jones to marry, the cards would by Mr. Jones-Brown, and Mrs Brown-Jones. He considers a household ought to be conducted like a commercial firm, and on the principles of 1789.

Paris consumes every week about 205 horses and 11 ossas, the former are slaughtered by electricity. The fashionable jewel for ladies on horseback, is a medal of St. George. Gustave Doré has left the statue of Dumas père finished. Adam was the happiest of husbands, having had no mother-in-law. Love is an irregular verb that cannot be conjugated without an auxiliary.

THE HIGHLAND CROFTERS.

The meeting in Edinburgh in the interest of the Highland Crofters, reported in the Daily News of yesterday, was (our correspondent writes) one of the most influential and certainly the most enthusiastic held since Mr. Gladstone was in Mid-Lothian at the time of the General Election. Mr. Duncan M'Laren, ex-M.P., one of the oldest citizens of Edinburgh, made an admirable and exhaustive speech, in which he dealt with the more important contributions to the discussion of questions effecting the Highlands, making special reference to "the able and interesting letters of a Correspondent of the Daily News" in confirmation of some of his statements. Among the letters read, was a remarkably one from the Rev. R. Morison, Kintale Manse, Lochalsh, who said:—"From my window as I write I can see a portion of a tract of land of not less than 200,000 acres which the shortsighted greed of Highland lairds has turned into a desert to minister to the insatiable lust for slaughter of one individual. I also see daily the homes of about 159 quiet, harmless people, who hereafter cannot get a yard of God's earth in which to plant a few potatoes for their sustenance, nor liberty to graze a quadruped of any kind on its surface, and against whom the powers are being invoked to thrust them forth from their lowly dwellings, and leave them without house or home or means of subsistence, all professedly to promote the same brutal amusement for the same person. Can anyone wonder if a man's blood boils at the prepetration of such iniquities?"—The speakers were men of great influence in the city of Edinburgh and in the country. It was notable that a large portion of them were Free Churchmen and advanced Liberals; but the established Church and the Tory party were also represented at the meeting. Principal Rainy, of the New College, is connected with the Highlands by birth and is otherwise intimatsly identified with the Highlanders, being convener of the Free Church Committee, and having done a great deal in promoting education and other important schemes in the Highlands. Dr. Carment, one of the leading lawyers of Edinburgh, is a Ross-shire man, and his interest in the Highlanders has been maintained unbroken during a long life. Without Professor Blackie no meeting of Highlanders in Edinbuagh would be complete, and his speech was as usual lively and vigorous; not less genial was Dr. Begg, and there is no question upon which he speaks more strongly than that relating to the condition of the Highlanders. Mr. Miles, of Scrabster, Mr. Macfarlane, M.P., and Dean-of-Guild Mackenzie (Inverness) were among the other speakers, and they all testified to the peaceful character of the people, and illustrated the intolerable grievances under which they suffer. The feeling against the Government despatching an armed force to the Highlands was strongly expressed, and the demand for a commission of inquiry was urgently enforced. The Edinburgh meeting, it was known by well-informed Highlanders, was looked forward to by the Government authorities with very special interest, and this knowledge contributed largely to its signal success.

A PROOF-READER'S QUALIFICATIONS.

First in order in this department is an apology for the typographical errors in our last number, they were most too numerous to be pardonable. The best amends we can make is to assure our readers that more care will be taken in future. It is unnecessary to say that our proof reader received his walking papers, and just here we might add, that his position is still vacant, though temporarily occupied by an ex. (?) Cambridge professor. Applicants for the position will please be sure they have mastered the rudiments of the art of proof-reading before filing their credentials, in the waste basket of the editor. For benefit of the above, or any others, wishing to fit themselves for a like position, we will give a few of the first elements required, as prescribed by an experienced editor:

"The first step is to serve an apprenticeship at printing, which enables the student to discern typographical irregularities. A general acquaintance with history, biography, poetry, fiction, music, the drama, etc., is important."

Geography and civil government should have special attention; must become familiar with all countries and states which have ever issued stamps or coins, all money rates, dates of different issues, colors, etc.

"Read, ponder, and assimilate Webster, the Bible, Shakespeare, Anthon's Classical Dictionary, Roget's Thesaurus, Lippincott's Gazetteer, Hayden's Dictionary of Dates, the cyclopedias of Appleton, Zell, Johnson, and others. Bremisch-Niedersachsisches Wörterbuch, Brandtke's Slownik doklady Jezyka Polskiego, i Niemieckiego, and any other works of a solid nature."—

Pauly's Encyclopadie der classischen-Alterthumswissenschaft, which would no doubt be useful in study of some of our antiquarian subjects, also a perusal of the files of the Correspondenzblatt des Gesammtvereins der deutschen Geschichts und Alterthumsvereine, would be of assistance. In anticipation of a forthcoming article on Oology, a few odd moments spent with Fortpflanzungsgeschicte der gesammten Vogel would not be wasted.

"During the long winter evenings you may scoop in a few languages—say Greek, Latin, French, Hebrew, Russian, German, Chinese, Bohemian, and Choctaw.

The foregoing are a few of the acquirements of a first-class proof-reader. The business is learned in a short time by any young man with a little perseverance."—The Bureau.

Ayer's Hair Vigour

(A DESIDERATUM)

For restoring the Natural Vitality and Colour of the Hair.

Prepared according to scientific and physiological bases with the object of bettering the condition of the hair, it stimulates the enfeebled glands of the scalp into healthy action, arrests the falling of the hair and promotes its luxuriant growth; rendering it soft, youthful and glossy.

This excellent preparation, the best and without doubt the only one as a remedial agent for the many defects and diseases to which the hair is subject, calls for and merits the most serious attention of all those who have had the misfortune to lose partially this most beautiful and natural ornament. AYER'S HAIR VIGOUR employed intelligently has obtained really surprising results. Faded or grey hair it restores to its original colour; and lost hair is often, but not always, reproduced.

It has always PREVENTED FALLING of the hair; whilst as a dressing ladies say it is the most agreeable as it is the most beneficent. Containing neither dye nor oil, it does not soil the finest cambric.

March 16th, 1883

Patacon	25.01
Cedulas A	100½
Cedulas E	86⅝
National Bank Shares....	105½
Argentine Gas Shares....	100

Five hundred thousand Cedulas were sold this morning during official hours at firm rates. The reaction that began to be felt in the market yesterday and become pronounced during afterhours continued to-day with a very firm tendency. The stock looks firm in spite of the very heavy sales made, and holders look forward to 90. Speculation in Cedulas drew all the attention of the market and other stocks were neglected in consequence.

Series A changed hands for cash at 100¼. Operations in Series E for the end of the month embraced nearly $200,000 at 86⅞-¼-⅜. Two hundred thousand were sold for the end of April at 87 and 87½, whilst 30,000 were sold for the end of May at 87½. The rise in the stock has been so sudden as to stagger the market, although nearly everybody had anticipated a rise a month ago.

A few Argentine Gas Shares changed hands to-day at par. This is one of the very best interest-paying stocks in the market. The last dividend declared was one of 12 o/o.

Speculation in National Bank Shares ruled exceedingly dull this morning; operations during official hours amounted to 650 shares only. Four hundred shares were sold for the end of the month, rates opening at 105¼ and closing at 105½. Two hundred and fifty shares were sold for the end of April at 106¼, opening price, and 106⅜, closing rate. The market looks very heavy for the moment. The dullness of the share market forms a striking contrast to the activity in Cedulas. No activity can be expected in the share market unless operators effect a sudden turn, whether for a rise or a fall.

The gold market rules very quiet. A few operations are reported at 25.01. Exchange shews no alterations; some bills were passed this morning at 49⅜ and 49½.

The market can scarcely give credit to the rumor that the Board of the Western Railway, with tacit approval of the Provincial Government, is putting stumbling-blocks in the way of the Transandine Railway. It appears that the Western Railway Board does not relish the idea of any junction with the Transandine line. Should impediments be put in the way of the concessionaire he may push his line right through to B. Aires, since the concession granted by the Argentine Congress allows the proposed line to start direct from this capital. It is to be hoped that the Governor of the Province will consider this matter and make a compromise. The present state of affairs is most disagreeable. Every facility should be afforded to the new line; an anti-railway policy, such as that observed, reflects very little credit on the brains of the men in the Provincial Government.

The Ville de Buenos Aires, of the Chargeurs Reunis line, will be up to-morrow; she brings a general cargo, 1,200 tons for here and 900 for Rosario, and some 40 to 50 passengers. The Parana, of the same line, a magnificent new steamer, is expected on Sunday; she will leave about 31st. She has splendid accommodations and many passengers have already engaged berths.

The news current on 'Change is that Mr. Llambi Campbell has met with the greatest success in London and arranged his business. Series A will be amortized at the rate of two millions pats. each quarter, the Cedulas not to be destroyed but deposited in the London and River Plate Bank stamped, and the Mortgage Bank to draw on London for the amount required for each amortization.

Messrs. Sterne Bros., of London, we understand, is associated with the Syndicate of Parisian bankers who have finally concluded the loan to the National Bank on its bonds, &c. The business was signed and concluded yesterday afternoon. Messrs. Alkaine and Acosta were the brokers.

The Maskelyne took several thousand bales of jerked beef for Brazil—a new business, and which is giving a great impetus to the saladero business at the Cerro. They have killed more there this season than for the last ten years; and it is the new plan of baling the jerked beef which has given such a spurt to this trade.

The loan to the National Bank by the Comptoir d'Escompte, Messrs. Cohen, the Banque de Paris et des Pays Bas and by Messrs. Stern Bros., of London, has been signed in a provisional manner. The preliminary stipulations are that the Bankers will advance to the National Bank £400,000 stg., after deposit of the General Bond. The Bank will pay to the negotiators 6 per cent interest and ½ per cent interest per quarter, or 7 per cent per annum. An application will be made to Congress to declare the Bonds held by the Bank a foreign loan. If this be accepted the Bank may then draw for £560,000 stg. more at ninety days' sight also. But should Congress throw out the application the Bank must return the £400,000 within 90 days to the bankers and the whole affair falls through. The Syndicate has the privilege of taking the 5 per cent bonds at 85 per cent, if declared a foreign loan; this right they may maintain till the 30th of April 1884. The loan, in fact, depends on the declaration of Congress, and there are many in the market who think that the Deputies will declare the bonds a foreign loan without difficulty. At all events the Bank may now draw for £400,000 stg., at 90 days' sight, and the fact is worth knowing as it will affect the exchange market as well as the Bank.

Four thousand arrobes of wool arrived to-day in the Once. No sales transpired. Messrs. Unzue sold 8,000 arrobes in deposit to Mr. Van Dael at reserved rates.

The sales at the ring were as follows:—

Cedulas—
For cash A 33,500 at 100¼
For cash E 38,500 at 86¼-½-⅝
For March 17th E 9,800 at 86¼-⅜
For March 26th E 5,000 at 86⅜
For March 31st A 18,500 at 100¼
For March 31st E 184,000 at 86⅛-½-⅜

Telegrams from Rosario state that the Santa Fe Government has negotiated a $4,000,000 loan at 80 o/o through Messrs. S. B. Hale & Co. of this city.

Brokers on the Bolsa are getting up a Mutual Protection Society. This is a move in the right direction.

Messrs. Schwarz's Abyssinian well in Frias was sunk by direct orders of President Roca. Messrs. Schwarz have received orders from all parts of the country, especially from the Northern provinces, to sink these wells. There are now nearly one thousand men hard at work at the Frias Station extending the Tucuman Railway to Santiago del Estero.

10,000 Santiago salted ox hides were sold to-day at 51½ rls; weight 62 to 63 lb.

The new National Bank project is raising a storm of indignation in Montevideo. The press attacks both the Government and the project.

About 15,000 Cedulas were sold cash at afterhours at 86¼; the market closed with buyers at 87 for the end of the month. Shares ruled very flat and rates fell as low as 104¼, closing rate.

Mr. Heimendahl took leave of his many friends to-day. He leaves for Europe in the Bearn.

Mr. E. Casey was congratulated by all on the brilliant results of the Loreto land auction. It is calculated that the auction gives the Company a profit of $300,000.

An agent of a London banker has arrived in this city with letters of introduction from Mr. Guerrico to the Lord Mayor. This gentleman has come with power to negotiate a 6 o/o loan with the Municipality at 90 o/o.

Telegrams from Havre are contradictory. Some telegrams state that half the quantity offered was withdrawn, others that good wools are in demand and no change in prices.

The Marana has engaged 3,000 bales of wool for Dunkirk at 25 francs.

The Parana has engaged 4,000 bales at 25 francs for Havre and 29 francs for Tourcoign.

The sales at afterhours were:—

ESTABLISHED 1799.

To Sheep and Cattle Breeders of small Capital.

Towards the end of last year, We advertized 112 lots of half a league each, or say 800 squares of camp for sale at Gainza, to the West of Lincoln, payable $12,500 cash down, and $14,062 in yearly payments for eight years, without any interest. The last payment coming due on the year 1891.

We then described the pastures of these Gainza camps, as being different to those found generally an Virgin Camps. Instead of the hard grasses usually found, we have here a species of gramilla, suitable at once for sheep in prudent quantities, which covers two-thirds of the surface.

We invited small sheepfarmers to go out and judge for themselves. We invited them to inspect the prosperous condition of the sheep on the camp at the estancia house at Gainza. The occupations of shearing and deposit of wools joined to the hot season prevented as full a response to our appeal as we would have wished. Nevertheless several camp friends went out to see the land and strange to say every man who went took lots, some of half a league, and some up to two leagues.

The railroad to Valparaiso passes through the property, and the basis of a colony is already established. Ranchos and corrales will spring up immediately, and a man living on his own land will bring in the sid of the plough to produce abundance around him.

We have still various lots for sale, and we conscientiously advise our camp friends to go out and look at these Gainza lands with the conviction that once seen, and as has ocurred up to this time, each man will be desirous of securing lots according to his means.

On the 1st, 11th and 21st of each month the train from the Once, will conduct parties interested, direct to Gainza via Lincoln, in galera. At the estancia house in Gainza peons are in attendance to show these lands to purchasers.

For further particulars apply to the undersigned, 178 Calle San Martin.
